Subject: Yahoo Group USAFA_2013_Parents

Hi,

I am the president of the USAFA Parents Association of NH. I am by passing Barbara (but including her) because of the time sensitive material here.

As you are well aware of, the 2013 class is right now in Basic Cadet Training (BCT). A Yahoo Group just for the parents of these basic cadets was started back in November of 2008. The group has slowly been increasing their membership.

However, we would like to do our first Parent Spirit Mission with Beat the Beast Post Cards. To do this, we need to reach out to all the 2013 parents.

This is where you can help us. Could you please get the message out about this yahoo group to all of your new parents? It is free to join.

For more information, the parents should go to http://groups.yahoo.com/group/USAFA_2013_Parents/

Don't know how to reach your new parents? Barbara, when she returns on July 14th, should be able to help you. In the meantime, you can also contact your ALO in your area. I know that my ALO contact was a big help in planning our appointee dinner this year.

Thank you for reading this message,
Sincerely,
Mary Eileen Indelicato
