Subject: Doolie Day Out

All, there still seems to be confusion on DDO:

- DOOLIE DAY OUT (Aug 13th) is a military event reserved for Sponsor Families to spend the day with their assigned cadets. Parents who are not sponsors will not be permitted to pick up their children. Only sponsor families with their assignment letters will be allowed to enter the pick up points.
- Two weeks from Doolie Day Out is Parents' Weekend when cadets will be released to their parents for the entire weekend.

AOCs have been receiving phone calls from parents asking to see their children on Doolie Day Out. The cadets not only miss out on this one-day opportunity to get to know their sponsors, this is how we lose sponsors as well. Some sponsors go to great lengths preparing to have their cadets on this day, only to find out at the last minute their cadets would be spending the day with someone else.
