Subject: Spirit Mission Class of 2013

Hi,

I am the president of the USAFA Parents Association of NH. I am also a moderator for the USAFA_2013_Parents Yahoo group.

The Parents of the Class of 2013 have started our first Parent Spirit Mission with Beat the Beast Post Cards. The USAFA_2013_Parents Yahoo Group has almost 350 members and we have collected over 225 names for the mission. But, we are still reaching out to for more names.

This is where you can help us. Could you please get this message out about the Beat the Beast Spirit Mission to all of your new parents? It is free to join.

For more information, the parents should go to http://groups.yahoo.com/group/USAFA_2013_Parents/

When joining, there are two important steps that need to take place. First, you need to use a working email address. If you do not enter an email address, YAHOO will create one for you. Second, a message will be sent to your email address. Your membership will remain pending until you reply to the message. This helps protect the membership.

Sorry if this message is a duplicate. For those who have seen this message before, thank you for your help.

Sincerely,
Mary Eileen Indelicato
